Hello,

I have read that Pyramid Crossgates has proposed to build on 47 acres of Pine Bush, with 360 residential units, a Costco, and more commercial and retail space. This must not be approved. The Pine Bush is a fragile and unique ecosystem to be protected and not bulldozed for more housing and shopping centers.

I read the Guilderland newsletter, and although those in charge claim that green and open space is a priority, the opposite is true. A car wash certainly is not needed across from Price Chopper/Market 32 on Route 20. Now I see another development going on across from Hannaford. Route 20 is a nightmare to drive at any time of day and there is too much development for an antiquated road to handle. And the senior housing monstrosity on Route 155 is a disgrace. All of those beautiful old pine trees were knocked down for an eyesore. Apparently BBL didn't know how to leave trees intact while they built this.

Guilderland is becoming another Colonie and is certainly not concerned with the affects of climate change.
